Operating standards at a glance

Topic	Standard
Work model	Office-based. Work from home only in a genuine emergency, with prior written Management approval, for that situation only.
Working days	Monday–Friday. Weekly offs ordinarily Saturday and Sunday.
Hours	Assigned shift. Minimum 8 working hours + 30-minute lunch (office span at least 8h 30m).
Example shifts	10:30 AM–7:00 PM · 11:00 AM–7:30 PM · 12:00 PM–8:30 PM
Late grace	3 × 15 minutes per calendar month. After that, late = half day. Under 6 working hours = half day.
Leave notice	1 day: 3 working days. 2+ consecutive days: 7 calendar days. Monday or Friday: 1 week. Email approval required first.
Payroll	Ordinarily 1st–5th of each month.
Channels	Email for records and leave; ClickUp for work; Sheets, WhatsApp, and calls as needed.

SECTION 1

Welcome, purpose, and applicability

Welcome to ADMEXO LLC. Admexo is a performance-driven company built on speed, ownership, accountability, discipline, creativity, and trust. Strong teams are built when expectations are clear, systems are transparent, and every person takes responsibility for their work and conduct.

This handbook is the single reference for how Admexo operates. Every person associated with Admexo is expected to read it carefully and follow it in letter and spirit.

Purpose

- Define workplace expectations clearly and consistently.
- Establish systems for work, attendance, leave, and reporting.
- Keep payroll, conduct, performance, and holidays transparent.
- Protect company information, clients, systems, and assets.

Who it applies to

Full-time employees, probationary employees, interns, trainees, fixed-term hires, and consultants or contractual personnel where relevant. Where a rule applies only to employees or only to interns, that is stated in the section.

SECTION 2

Values, culture, and employment categories

Ownership Take responsibility for work, deadlines, communication, and outcomes. Do not wait to be chased.	Accountability Work is judged by output, consistency, reliability, and follow-through — not desk time alone.	Transparency Blockers, delays, and mistakes must be communicated early. Silence is not acceptable.
Speed with quality Move quickly, not carelessly. Good work is both fast and thoughtful.	Professionalism Respect, discipline, responsiveness, and clarity are non-negotiable.	Confidentiality Information accessed through work is confidential and must be handled with care.

We also value continuous improvement: people who learn fast, adapt fast, and improve consistently.

Category	Meaning
Full-time employees	Employed on a regular full-time basis, subject to the Appointment Letter and policies.
Probationary employees	Initial engagement is subject to the probation period in the Appointment Letter.
Interns	Engaged for a fixed internship for training, learning, and contribution to specific work.

SECTION 3

Work model, hours, and breaks

ADMEXO is office-based. Work from home or any alternate arrangement is not an entitlement. It is permitted only in a genuine emergency, with prior written approval from Management, and only for that situation. Approval does not create a hybrid pattern or precedent. Reporting, availability, and performance expectations stay the same.

Remain reasonably available at your assigned workplace during working hours. Short personal needs are fine. Frequent or extended absence without a valid reason, or without informing the Reporting Manager, is not. If you need to leave the premises, inform the Reporting Manager or a concerned teammate in advance wherever reasonably possible.

Working days are Monday to Friday. Weekly offs are ordinarily Saturday and Sunday. Report according to your assigned shift and complete a minimum of eight working hours. The 30-minute lunch break is separate, so the normal office span is at least eight hours and thirty minutes. Completing eight hours does not excuse a late start.

Typical office span

Lunch is outside the eight working hours and cannot be banked to arrive late or leave early.

Example shift	Span	Notes
10:30 AM – 7:00 PM	8h 30m	Includes 30-minute lunch
11:00 AM – 7:30 PM	8h 30m	Includes 30-minute lunch
12:00 PM – 8:30 PM	8h 30m	Includes 30-minute lunch

Examples only. Your assigned shift, as communicated by Management, is the binding reporting time.

Lunch

- Up to 30 minutes. No fixed lunch time unless operations require one.
- Take it at a reasonable time around workload, meetings, and clients.
- Repeatedly extending lunch may be treated as an attendance or productivity concern.
- Unused lunch cannot be used to arrive late or leave early unless specifically approved.

SECTION 4

Attendance, late reporting, and early departure

Record login and logout accurately in the designated system. Do not manipulate records, mark for someone else, or ask someone to mark for you. Report missed or incorrect entries promptly to the Reporting Manager or HR.

Late-reporting grace — per calendar month

Grace applies only to reporting time. Completing hours later does not erase a late record.

Grace 1
up to 15 min

Grace 2
up to 15 min

Grace 3
up to 15 min

4th late in the month
recorded as Half Day

Resets each calendar month. Delayed minutes must still be completed the same day. Under 6 working hours = Half Day.

- Arrival more than 15 minutes after assigned time is late attendance.
- After three grace instances, further late arrival is recorded as half-day attendance.
- Attending but completing fewer than six working hours, without prior approval or an accepted emergency, is Half Day.
- Complete absence is a full-day absence.

Emergencies and repeated lateness

If a genuine emergency will make you late, tell the Reporting Manager as early as reasonably possible. Repeated late reporting may lead to counselling, an attendance advisory, a written warning, or further action.

Do not leave before completing scheduled hours without prior approval from the Reporting Manager, HR, or Management. Approved early departure may still require the time to be completed or adjusted. If an emergency prevents attendance, inform the Reporting Manager or HR preferably before reporting time. Failure to inform without a reasonable explanation may be treated as unauthorized absence.

SECTION 5

Communication, reporting, and reviews

Channel	Primary use
ClickUp	Work management, task assignment, updates, project communication
Email	Formal communication, approvals, official records, leave requests
Google Sheets	Operational tracking, reports, dashboards

WhatsApp	Quick coordination, reminders, urgent messages
Calls	Urgent escalations and time-sensitive matters

Check channels regularly, respond within a reasonable time during working hours, keep work visible, and escalate blockers early. Ignoring messages or staying unreachable without notice may be treated as a conduct or performance issue.

Review rhythm

Submitted through ClickUp and/or WhatsApp as directed. Employees and interns both follow this cadence.

Cadence	What to submit
Daily morning	Plan, priorities, ongoing deliverables, dependencies or support needed
Daily evening	Completed work, pending items, blockers, carry-forwards
Weekly (Friday)	Planned vs done, pending, blockers, wins, next-week priorities, support
Monthly	Quality, ownership, project status, reporting discipline, improvements, next-month priorities; may include KPIs
Quarterly	Contribution, strengths, growth, recurring gaps, next-quarter goals, training or systems support

SECTION 6

Performance, targets, and handover

Physical presence is not performance. Work is evaluated on quality, timeliness, consistency, communication, reliability, ownership, initiative, responsiveness, learning, problem-solving, reporting discipline, professionalism, and role-specific output.

Own the targets assigned to you or committed by you. Flag difficulty, dependency, or resource needs early — not after the deadline. If a delay is coming, tell the Reporting Manager the reason, current status, support needed, and a revised timeline. Transparent early communication is treated more favourably than a silent miss.

Before leave or extended unavailability, hand over

- Pending assignments, important updates, and upcoming deadlines
- Relevant documents, dependencies, risks, and follow-up actions

Give the handover to the Reporting Manager or designated teammate early enough to protect continuity. If performance falls below expectations, the Company may give feedback, set corrective expectations, increase review, extend probation, re-evaluate role fit, or take disciplinary or separation action.

SECTION 7

Conduct, professionalism, and respectful workplace

Expected: honesty, discipline, respect, punctuality, cooperation, confidentiality, and seriousness toward work. Disagreements should be raised respectfully with the Reporting Manager, HR, or Management.

Not acceptable: abusive or threatening language; harassment, bullying, or intimidation; aggressive or disruptive behaviour; repeated non-cooperation; dishonesty or misrepresentation; refusal to follow reasonable process; ghosting; falsifying work or records; unethical conduct.

Personal activity, phones, and meetings

Limit personal activity during working hours. Excessive personal calls, social media, entertainment, gaming, or non-work streaming that interferes with work is not permitted. Phone use must stay reasonable and must not interrupt meetings, training, or client work. Attend meetings on time; if you will miss or be late, tell the organiser or Reporting Manager early.

Respectful workplace

Harassment, bullying, intimidation, discrimination, retaliation, or inappropriate conduct will not be tolerated — including verbal or sexual harassment, hostile behaviour, discriminatory remarks, and offensive messages. Report it to the Company immediately.

SECTION 8

Confidentiality, assets, technology, and conflicts

Company, client, campaign, financial, credential, and commercial information is confidential. Do not disclose, copy, retain, or misuse it except for authorised work. Report suspected loss, unauthorised access, or account compromise immediately.

Work created during employment or internship — content, designs, campaigns, documents, reports, systems, templates, code, and processes — belongs to ADMEXO LLC unless agreed otherwise in writing.

Without prior written approval, do not work for a direct competitor, take outside work that interferes with your role, use company time or resources for personal business, divert clients or opportunities, or use company knowledge for outside gain. Disclose actual or potential conflicts promptly.

Laptops, accounts, credentials, files, dashboards, and systems remain company property and are for authorised business use. Do not share credentials, retain files after exit, or move company material to personal systems without approval. Report loss, damage, or misuse promptly. Return everything on exit.

Do not use company systems unlawfully, install unauthorised software, leak confidential information, post internal screenshots or commercial data publicly, or represent the Company without authorisation. Social posts involving the Company must stay professional and approved where needed.

SECTION 9

Compensation and payroll

Salary and stipend are ordinarily processed between the 1st and 5th of each calendar month, subject to attendance closure, deductions, approvals, and internal timelines. Deductions may include statutory amounts, leave without pay, recovery of advances, unreturned assets, and other lawful deductions.

Unpaid-leave deduction

Per-day amount = monthly salary or stipend ÷ number of working days in the month (excluding weekends and declared holidays).

Deduction = unpaid leave days × per-day amount.

Incentive, bonus, commission, or variable pay, where applicable, is governed by separate written communication. Expense reimbursement, if permitted, needs prior approval where required, proof, verification, and finance approval.

SECTION 10

Leave policy

Type	Entitlement	Key rules
Casual Leave	1 / month; 12 / year	Request and approve in advance.
Sick Leave	6 / year	Inform preferably the same day. Medical certificate may be required for 3+ consecutive days. Cannot be carried forward.
Earned Leave	1 / month after 6 months. Up to 6 in year 1; 12 from year 2	Plan and approve in advance. Carry-forward / encashment follows company process. Recommended cap: 24 days.

Intern paid leave vs full-time (year 2+)

Interns: 1 paid day per month. Extra leave is unpaid.

Intern

1 paid day / month

Full-time (Year 2+)

CL 12

SL 6

EL 12

30 days / year

Intern unused paid leave does not ordinarily carry forward. Employee EL carry-forward is capped at 24 days (recommended).

How to apply

All planned leave must be requested and approved by email before you go. A request is not approval. Notice:

- One working day: at least 3 working days in advance
- Two or more consecutive working days: at least 7 calendar days
- Monday or Friday: at least one week

Approvals consider business need, coverage, existing leave, and pending work. Unapproved leave may be unauthorized absence or Leave Without Pay, except a genuine emergency. Excess leave may also be a performance or disciplinary matter.

Sandwich leave

If you take leave on both the working day before and the working day after a weekly off or public holiday, the intervening non-working days are also counted as leave.

Sandwich-leave example

Saturday and Sunday are weekly offs.

Friday + Monday leave counts Friday through Monday (4 days), not 2.

Exceptions may be approved for medical emergency, hospitalisation, bereavement, a serious family emergency, or another circumstance Management accepts. If paid balance is insufficient, days may be Leave Without Pay.

Interns

1 paid leave per month. Unused paid leave does not ordinarily carry forward. Leave beyond entitlement is unpaid. Intimate in advance where possible; for emergency or illness, inform the Reporting Manager the same day. Frequent or unapproved absence may affect stipend, review, continuation, certificate, or future opportunity.

SECTION 11

Public holidays and 2026 Noida calendar

Public and festival holidays are separate from weekly offs and from individual leave. The list may be revised for business, operations, location, or management discretion. The calendar below is for the Admexo Noida office, 2026. A holiday on a weekly off does not automatically create a substitute weekday off unless the Company notifies one.

SECTION 12

Employee and intern notes, discipline, and exit

Full-time employees

Governed by the Offer / Appointment Letter, NDA, this handbook, and written company instructions. Probation and confirmation follow the Appointment Letter and are at Company discretion based on performance, reliability, ownership, conduct, and role fit. Daily, weekly, monthly, and quarterly reporting is required. Notice period is governed by the signed letter, not this handbook.

Interns

Internship is for structured learning and practical work. It does not guarantee a full-time role unless confirmed in writing. Interns follow the same discipline, confidentiality, professionalism, availability, and reporting standards. Intern notice period, where applicable, is in the Internship / Offer Letter.

Disciplinary path

The aim is to correct conduct, keep standards consistent, and give a reasonable chance to improve. Before formal action, you will ordinarily be told the concern and asked for an explanation. Management will weigh the explanation, circumstances, prior conduct, and seriousness. Serious misconduct or significant risk may skip to a more serious step, including immediate action.

Usual corrective path

Not a right to every step. Serious issues can move faster.

Serious misconduct may skip steps. You will ordinarily be asked for an explanation first.

Serious misconduct includes breach of confidentiality or data leakage, theft or fraud, falsifying work or attendance, harassment, misuse of accounts, intentional reputational harm, repeated disappearance without information, client misrepresentation, and deliberate sabotage or non-cooperation.

Exit

Complete handover, return assets, transfer files and access, finish pending updates, settle recoveries, and obtain clearance. Relieving letters, internship completion documents, experience letters, and final settlement may wait on satisfactory exit formalities.

ADMEXO LLC may interpret, revise, amend, suspend, or withdraw any policy in this handbook as business, operational, managerial, or legal needs require. Updated policy communicated by the Company applies. This handbook does not guarantee continued employment or internship.

SECTION 13

Acknowledgement

I confirm that I have received, read, and understood the ADMEXO Employee & Intern Handbook (Version 2.0), including office rules, attendance and leave standards, and the 2026 Noida holiday calendar. I agree to comply. I understand that a violation may result in fair and proportionate corrective or disciplinary action, considering the matter, the circumstances, and any explanation I provide.

A signed copy may be retained by the Company. The absence of a signature does not reduce the obligation to comply.
